Who We Are: Solar Community, a non profit volunteer-based organization, is hosting the New York Solar Festival, known as "NYSolarfest," scheduled for June 9 & 10 2007 at the Solar Cafe.

We are dedicated to the promotion and advocacy of renewable and sustainable living, promoting a healthy lifestyle, in tune with nature, and protecting our environment, our people, and our planet through education and positive action.

Organizing the New York Solarfest is a key step towards raising awareness and challenging our communities to adopt a more sustainable and holistic way of life. This event is meant to be inclusive of all environmental causes.

New York Solarfest will include seminars and educational programs, as well as participatory events focused on music and art. NYSolarfest will feature a solar stage with performances throughout the 2-day event. There is also a children's theater and puppet show planned for the event. One of NYSolarfest's major themes will be "Educating our communities through the arts."

Solar Community welcomes the support of your organization/business through planning, participation, and networking or through your generous contributions.
